

Title: WORLD WE LIVE IN (WWLi)

Summary: WWLi is a discussing project for those interested in reflecting on how we construct and manage the world we live in, interact with others and integrate ourselves into the global society.

Description: What does it mean to be an agent of change? What does it mean to be a sustainable community? How can we make our community sustainable? Celebrating 20 years of iEARN, this year's session of the World We Live In Project will be focused on the contributions that were made and continue to be made in our local communities. We would like to ask you to share with us how the development of the world we live in depends on our ideas and actions. In the ongoing discussion, we welcome your ideas and thoughts in form of essays, images and short clips that illustrate the role of young people in creating a sustainable future, and propose concrete project ideas for your local community.
